INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY

International application No. PCT/EP2004/051364

Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability
. The	The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non- obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:
	the entire international application,
×	claims Nos. 13
	because:
	the said international application, or the said claims Nos. relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):
⊠	the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. 13 are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):
	see separate sheet
	the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.
	no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos.
	the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing does not comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions in that:
	the written form		has not been furnished
			does not comply with the standard
	the computer readable form		has not been furnished
			does not comply with the standard
	the tables related to the nucleonot comply with the technical	otide requir	and/or amino acid sequence listing, if in computer readable form only, do rements provided for in Annex C- bis of the Administrative Instructions.

Certain defects in the international application Box No. VII

The following defects in the form or contents of the international application have been noted:

see separate sheet

Re Item III

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

III-1 Claim 13 does not specify explicitly and univocally any technical feature, and can therefore not be examined. Furthermore, said claim contain references to the drawings. According to Rule 6.2(a) PCT, claims should not contain such references except where absolutely necessary, which is not the case here.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

V-1 The document D1 (US-A-6 070 671) is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claim 1, and shows (the references in parentheses applying to this document):

A method of expanding a tubular element having a first portion to be expanded to a first inner diameter and a second portion to be expanded to a second inner diameter larger than the first inner diameter (col. 2, l. 37-55). the method comprising:

The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from this known method in the following further steps:

- a) arranging an expandable sleeve of selected wall thickness in said second tubular element portion;
- b) positioning an expander in the tubular element;
- c) operating the expander so as to expand said first tubular element portion to the first inner diameter, and operating the expander so as to expand the sleeve to an inner diameter substantially equal to the second inner diameter minus double the wall thickness of the sleeve; and
- d) retrieving the sleeve from the tubular element.

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).

- V-2 The solution to the problem of how to further improve the expansion method is not considered obvious in light of the cited prior art. Claim 1 involves therefore also an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT).
- V-3 Claims 2-11 are dependent on claim 1 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.

Re Item VII

Certain defects in the international application

- VII-1 The features of the claims are not provided with reference signs placed in parentheses (Rule 6.2(b) PCT).
- VII-2 Claim 13 contains a reference to the drawings. According to Rule 6.2(a) PCT, claims should not contain such references except where absolutely necessary, which is not the case here.
- VII-3 Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the document D1 is not mentioned in the description, nor is this document identified therein.
